Travel south on the A862 out of Beaully. After approximately 1.3km, turn right onto the A831, signed to Balblair, Struy and Cannich. Follow this road for 14km, then just before Struy Bridge, turn right onto Glen Strathfarrar road. This road is private and vehicular access is controlled at the locked gate at Milton Cottage near Struy. Access can be arranged through the landowner, or you can park at the car park at Milton Cottage and continue by foot. As described on the 'walhighlands' website, follow Glen Strathfarrar road for around 12.5km past Loch Beannacharan. After Deanie Power Station, turn right onto a track heading north. Follow it up along the Allt Coire Mhuillidh, past a small dam. After crossing the first side stream, climb up the grassy slope in a north-east direction, where there is a faint path. The viewpoint is located next to the summit cairn. Access to this VP requires appropriate equipment and a good standard of fitness.
